KB Home brings its distinct homebuilding process to Northern Colorado, which allows KB homebuyers to personalize many aspects of their new home to suit their lifestyle and preferences. After selecting their lot and floor plan, a KB Home design consultant will guide a homebuyer through every aspect of the process at the KB Home Design Studio, a retail-like showroom where they may select from a plethora of design and décor choices, including countertops, cabinets, flooring, lighting, appliances and window coverings. Newly designed floor plans will be available, offering KB homebuyers even more choices as they set out to build the home of their dreams.
